TENNESSEE VALLEY EARTH PARTNERSHIP PROMOTES EARTH DAY

EarthFest, an annual celebration of Earth Day in Knoxville, has had a major impact on our community promoting environmental awareness and opportunities for individuals to reduce their environmental footprint on East Tennessee. The event was held at Pellessippi State Technical Community College and attendance reached ten thousand.

Environmental Awareness is the main focus of EarthFest. EarthFest has worked to create public awareness of such environmental issues important in East Tennessee, such as clean air, water, sustainable transportation, waste reduction and recycling, and urban forestation, just to name a few of the event's themes. Special attention is given to the creation of a day-long youth activity area that emphasizes creative and fun educational opportunities around each year's theme, "Small Steps To Reduce Your Carbon Footprint". Run by volunteers each year, the EarthFest Steering Committee brings together city and county officials, corporations and such as KUB and Koyo Steering, local media outlets and environmental groups.

EarthFest has attracted exhibitors and attendees from around the region. The event draws local organizations like the East Tennessee Clean Fuels Coalition, Knoxville Recycling Coalition, the Knox County Bee Keepers Association, Beardsley Community Farm, and Keep Knoxville Beautiful, and combines them with state agencies and organizations such as the National Parks Conservation Association, Big Brothers and Big Sisters of the Tennessee Valley, the Tennessee Dept. of Environment and Conservation, and the Tennessee Clean Water Network. Through food vendors like Earth Fare and Pasta Trio, terrific media exposure, great local entertainment and music on stage, a kids learning area, and hundreds of exhibitors, EarthFest has created an outgoing community event with something for everyone which is an asset to Knoxville and East Tennessee.
